CER Australian Portfolio Assessment

Physical Characteristics and Market Analysis

As of 31 December 2009

Executive Summary

- CER's Australian portfolio is a well diversified portfolio by shopping centre format with a broad spread of regional, sub-regional and convenience shopping centres
- CER has a well balanced geographic weighting across all states and in major metropolitan and regional cities
- Diverse range of top retailers including Australia's leading supermarket and DDS retailers
- High 99.7% occupancy
- 3.5% retail sales growth with supermarkets driving growth

Portfolio Breakdown

Asset Type ¹	Number of Properties	GLA (sq.m)
Regional Centres	4	122,269
Sub Regional Centres	21	228,274
Convenience Centres	5	34,018
Total Traditional Shopping Centres	30	384,561

¹ According to the SCCA: "A regional centre is defined as a major retail facility within one integrated building structure, incorporating at least one major department store as well as a wide range of other facilities.

Sub-regional centres are smaller, built around one or two major discount department stores (DDSs) and one or more supermarkets. Sub-regional centres are usually around 20,000 sq.m in size and include specialty shops.

Convenience centres comprise one or more major supermarkets, along with a collection of food and non-food specialty shops and services.

A bulky goods centre is defined as a centre managed by a single entity which incorporates large format retailers.

CER US Portfolio Assessment

Physical Characteristics and Market Analysis

As of 31 December 2009

Executive Summary

- CER is largely comprised of community shopping centers (68%) and has an average shopping center size of 173,431 square feet
- 34% of CER's portfolio was redeveloped in 2001 or later
- 67% of CER's GLA is grocery-anchored
- 75% of CER's grocers are #1 or #2 in their market or a specialty grocer
- CER's 2008 average sales per square foot for grocers of $574 exceeded the sales per square foot for the US average grocer in 2008 of $465 by 23%
- For shopping centers that have been redeveloped over the past five years, the 2008 average sales per square foot for grocers is $601
- 92% of CER's grocers have a rent to sales ratio of below 3%
- CER's income demographics, including an average household income of $77,383, are higher than the national averages, while its average population density is 179,360
- 62% of CER's ABR is derived from properties located in metro markets with populations greater than one million

Non-anchored	4	1.1%	0.4%	59,894
Total	373	100.0%	100.0%	173,431

- Approximately 68% of CER's portfolio is community shopping centers and approximately 32% is neighborhood shopping centers
- 248 properties, accounting for approximately 67% of CER's portfolio GLA, are grocery-anchored; 190 of the 248 grocery-anchored shopping centers have an additional anchor

According to the ICSC: "Neighborhood shopping centers provide convenience shopping for the day-to-day needs of consumers in the immediate neighborhood. These centers are typically anchored by a grocery and average 30,000 to 150,000 square feet. Community shopping centers typically offer a wider range of apparel and other soft goods than the neighborhood shopping center does. Among the more common anchors are grocers, super drugstores and discount department stores. These centers average 100,000 to 350,000 square feet."

The property may also have another anchor in addition to the grocer.

The non-grocery anchor is either a major discount store, a tenant with square footage greater than 10,000 square feet if the shopping center GLA is less than 125,000 square feet or a tenant with square footage greater than 25,000 square feet if the shopping center GLA is greater than 125,000 square feet, or a tenant with square footage greater than 10 percent of the shopping center GLA, but not less than 5,000 square feet.

Grocery-Anchored Shopping Centers

Summary Statistics

- (1) Specialty grocers do not compete directly with mainstream grocers in each market due to their niche focus. Grocers classified as Other may be #1, #2 or #3 in their immediate neighborhood area, but have a lesser rank when calculated utilizing published market share reports.
- (2) Grocer sales per square foot includes only properties reporting sales data for 2008 and excludes non-comparable stores. Selling area for the Centro grocers is 77 percent of gross floor area as defined by the Food Marketing Institute.
- (3) Excludes ground leases.
- (4) Market area is defined as 5 miles for shopping centers located within Major Markets; 10 miles for shopping centers located in Mid-Markets; and 20 miles for shopping centers located in Smaller Markets.

(1) The United States Office of Management and Budget defines metropolitan and micropolitan statistical areas according to published standards that are applied to Census Bureau data. The term "core based statistical area" (CBSA) became effective in 2000 and refers collectively to metropolitan and micropolitan statistical areas. The general concept of a metropolitan or micropolitan statistical area is that of a core area containing a substantial population nucleus, together with adjacent communities having a high degree of economic and social integration with that core. Current metropolitan and micropolitan statistical area definitions were announced by OMB effective June 6, 2003. Each metropolitan statistical area (MSA) must have at least one urbanized area of 50,000 or more inhabitants. Each micropolitan statistical area must have at least one urban cluster of at least 10,000 but less than 50,000 population. If specified criteria are met, a metropolitan statistical area containing a single core with a population of 2.5 million or more may be subdivided to form smaller groupings of counties referred to as metropolitan divisions.
